LDA-IA is dedicated to identifying causes and promoting prevention of learning disabilities and to enhancing the quality of life for all individuals with learning disabilities and their families by:

1. Encouraging effective identification and intervention,
2. Fostering research, and
3. Protecting the rights of individuals with learning disabilities.

In order for these goals to be met, all LDA-IA board members need to give of their time, talents, and treasure.

Time: The board meets four times per year on a regular basis: January, April, July, and September. In addition, the annual conference is held in October. All meetings are in Des Moines and the regular meetings are on Saturdays. The conference is for three days. Special meetings are required on a need basis.

Talent: Each member brings special talents to the board. The talents of each board member are different and each individual will contribute in varied ways to the success and growth of LDA-IA. Individual talents become very important for committee and project assignments.

Treasure: Board members are advocates in the true sense of the word. There is no reimbursement to attend meetings or the state conference. In addition, all board members are encouraged to make an annual pledge. The individual determines the amount, and the amount of the pledge is confidential. Board members are not paid for participating in any projects or for any work for LDA-IA.
